LETTER FROM OUR CEO

WELCOME BACK!

It has been two long years behind masks and screens and I am thrilled we can be together in person this weekend to connect, learn, and celebrate! Together we are working to end isolation and build community for all AYAs and connect with those who get it. This weekend we come together as individuals with unique challenges and perspectives. We will leave as one community equipped with tools and strategies as well as new friends and colleagues.

A lot has changed here at Stupid Cancer since I started three years ago (and not just a global pandemic!) We have expanded our programming to better meet the diverse needs of all AYAs with our Digital Meetups and DMU Workshops, we have expanded our webinars to include Discussion Sessions so you can learn and discuss important topics with one another, and our Story Library continues to grow thanks to your incredible input. And we are continuously working to better the experience for all AYAs through our Health Disparities Town Hall.

The global pandemic forced us to change the way we do things – whether it was meeting friends over Zoom or going to the doctor over the computer. But what has not changed is Stupid Cancer’s unwavering commitment to the AYA community and our vision that everyone in AYA community is supported, understood, and accepted. My hope for you this weekend is that you will gain some great information and tips this weekend, reconnect with old friends, and find new friends!

It does not end in Minneapolis...join us for a Meetup, a Discussion Series, or an Open Mic to reconnect with all your friends from this weekend; follow us on social and join a discussion in our Regional Facebook Groups; share your experience at the Health Disparities Town Hall; and come back and continue the CancerCon experience at Digital CancerCon this November!

Thank you for joining us this weekend and thank you for being a part of this incredible community.

Best,

Alison Silberman, CEO
Stupid Cancer

Each storyteller will have 4 minutes on the mic to share their story, which will be recorded and added to the Stupid Cancer Story Library. Slots are limited, so sign up in advance at the Stupid Cancer exhibit table if you want to share!

This year Stupid Cancer is finally old enough to be considered an AYA, and we are ready to celebrate! Dance the night away with your AYA community - together in person at last. Dress up as your 15-year-old self, your favorite childhood party theme costume, or come as you are! We’ll bring the party hats and birthday cake.

STUPID CANCER WOULD LIKE TO THANK MERCK FOR THEIR GENEROUS SPONSORSHIP OF CANCERCON 2022
A Hidden Pandemic: Black Grief in the Oncology Setting

Sponsored by Jazz Pharmaceuticals | Speaker: Lisa Petgrave-Nelson, LMSW, OSW-C

The COVID-19 pandemic led to an unprecedented death toll among Black Americans, leaving a disparate impact on black grief and loss. This presentation aims to increase awareness of the risks and consequences of the COVID-19 pandemic on the lives of Black cancer patients as well as to identify some contributing factors which lead to disparities in mental health and grief within this community. Join this session to discuss the impact of racial inequities and learn strategies that can be utilized by health care professionals to support Black patients.

Caring Community: Building Support for Caregivers

Speaker: Whitney Hadley, MA, MSW, LSW

When you are the caregiver to an AYA patient, it can be hard to balance caring for your loved one and taking time for yourself. Whether you're caring for a romantic partner, child, sibling, family member, or friend, you need a community of caregivers to support your own journey. Join your caregiving peers in small groups to discuss your successes, concerns, or frustrations, and discover that you are not alone.

Loving Your Body: Finding Acceptance After "Betrayal"

Speakers: Wendy Griffith, MSSW, LCSW, OSW-C, Ashadee Miller, & James O'Neill

Seeing sudden changes to your body after cancer treatment can be traumatizing and the effects can be long-lasting or permanent. So how do you learn to accept, and even love, your body after you feel it has betrayed you? How does body image affect the way you see yourself, your partner, or other relationships? In this session, hear from survivors who have found a newfound love and appreciation for their bodies after cancer and then join in a discussion to share your own experiences.

Self Advocacy 101: Play an Active Role in Your Cancer Care

Sponsored by Seagen | Speakers: Ambreen Maan, MSW & Mindy Freund, MSN, RN, CCRC

Fear, anxiety, and feeling of loss of control are all associated with a cancer diagnosis. Through self-advocacy, you can play an active role in your care and recovery and take back your power. Join this interactive session to empower yourself with the tools, information, and skills you need to become your own best advocate.
Supporting you is our ONE priority.

For one-on-one support, including educational tools, resources, and help with insurance eligibility and treatment costs, visit ServierONE.com.
...And Now I Go Back to Work? Communicating Effectively in the Workplace

Speakers: Rachel Becker, LMSW; Yunna Sinskey, MD, & Sarahi Hernandez Rico

It can feel overwhelming thinking about going back to work after a cancer diagnosis – whether you’ve been away from your job for a year, or only an afternoon. Understanding how to best communicate with coworkers and supervisors can be nuanced and require strategy. This session will help you to think through your communication style, understand how disclosure decisions can shape ways to communicate at work, and provide tips and techniques for ensuring a comfortable workplace experience.

Cancer as Work: A Space for Nonprofit & Healthcare Professionals

Speaker: Ashley Williams, LCSW

Whether you work as an advocate, a nonprofit professional, a healthcare provider, or an industry partner, when it’s your job to support those with cancer, there are lots of unique challenges and stressors. This working session will allow for professionals in the AYA oncology space to join together across disciplines to collaborate and share solutions.

From Day One: Planning Your Survivorship Care

Sponsored by Leukemia & Lymphoma Society
Speakers: Amelia Baffa, MSN, APRN, PMHNP-BC & Crystal Reinhart, PhD

The decision about when to call yourself a “survivor” varies between cancer patients, but the National Cancer Institute defines cancer survivorship from the date of diagnosis. So the focus on survivorship care planning should start from the beginning and continue throughout treatment and beyond. This presentation will explore the process of creating and sharing a survivorship care plan, why it’s so important to have one, and the research on the disparities and gaps in survivorship care for young adult cancer patients.

Man Enough for Cancer? Transcending Toxic Masculinity & Finding Support

Speakers: Charles Razook & Calvin Hauer, MA, LMFT

Battling cancer is a hard time for everyone, but given societal pressures to “stay strong” and the underrepresentation of men in cancer support spaces, being an AYA male can be a particular challenge. This discussion will be an opportunity for male-identifying survivors to talk about their struggle to overcome toxic messages of masculinity in order to accept physical and emotional help.
Anticipatory Grief

Speakers: Allison Breininger & Megan Voss, DNP, RN

As a cancer caregiver, it can be hard to not think about the future and what it may or may not hold. In doing so, it is common for caregivers to experience anticipatory grief, in which you mourn the loss of your loved one while they are still here as well as grieve the future that is no longer available to you. In this discussion session, we will dig into this term, talk about how and when these feelings emerge for us, and explore how we can cope when they do.

Cancer in the Bedroom: Sex & Intimacy

Speakers: Tara Rick, PA-C, J. Pritchett & Calvin Hauer, MA, LMFT

You may be frustrated by disruptions to your sex life during and after cancer treatment, but there are interventions and tools that can help you regain confidence and increase pleasure. This dynamic panel presentation will share approachable tools and strategies to address the physical and emotional aspects of intimacy and sex after cancer.

Coping with Loneliness, Fear, & Anxiety

Sponsored by Merck | Speaker: Ashley Williams, LCSW

The cancer experience is often characterized by loneliness, fear, and anxiety. Upon diagnosis, there are many challenges and uncertainties that can leave you feeling isolated and scared. This session will address the impact of loneliness, fear and anxiety on the patient experience, identify strategies for coping with these feelings when they arise, and provide an opportunity to share and connect with your peers.

Understanding Your Rights and Advocating for Yourself as an LGBTQI2S+ Cancer Patient

Speakers: Hailey Johnston; Yasmine Ramachandra, MS, Nicole Jolicoeur, Esq & Sheena Pruitt, LGSW

LGBTQI2S+ identifying cancer patients, survivors, and caregivers face unique practical and legal issues that can impact health care, access to health insurance, estate planning, and medical decision-making. In this interactive session, learn about the steps you can take to be better prepared legally. Then, join the conversation to explore how to advocate for appropriate and inclusive care, workshop how to talk with and interview medical professionals, and share in community with your peers.

Finding Meaning & Creating Legacy

Speakers: Whitney Hadley, MA, MSW, LSW, Amelia Baffa, MSN, APRN, PMHNP-BC & Alique Topalian, PhD, MPH

Every AYA has a unique experience with cancer. Finding meaning through your cancer diagnosis can help patients, especially those with metastatic or chronic cancer, cope with the challenges and limitations you may face along the way. This workshop will offer a unique way for AYAs to explore meaning and create a story of legacy using vision boarding and small group discussion.

---

Healing from Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder: Trauma Therapy, Post-Traumatic Growth, Psychedelics & More

Speaker: Elana Miller, MD

You finished your last dose of chemotherapy, your last course of radiation, or your final surgery and thought the hard part was over — only to find a new struggle in front of you. What do you do if you feel like you’re "surviving" but not quite living? PTSD after cancer is common, but many cancer survivors don’t seek out help because they don’t recognize the signs and symptoms in themselves or don’t know how to get the help they need. In this session you will learn how the cancer experience can cause PTSD, how to identify the signs and symptoms of PTSD in yourself, and how to get the right kind of help so you can recover from cancer not just physically, but emotionally.
There is a growing consensus that meaningful engagement from patient stakeholders is critical to improving outcomes, but patient engagement in research is not a universal standard practice and the proportion of AYAs taking part in clinical trials has decreased over the past decade. This dual presentation will first address how to best engage AYA stakeholders in the development and dissemination of academic research and then discuss the benefits of and barriers to enrolling AYAs in clinical trials.

Seeing yourself as a successful parent is hard enough at the best of times, but with cancer it can feel impossible. If you’ve ever wondered “How am I supposed to talk to them about this?” or “How do I make sure I don’t scar them for life?” you are not alone. Join this discussion with other young parents to explore the do's and don'ts for talking to your kids about cancer, strategies for helping them cope, and how to maintain your sense of worth as a successful parent during a time when it’s easy to feel otherwise.

The mind is a powerful thing...how are your thoughts treating you in your survivorship? For many, the mindset of survivorship can become debilitating in personal and professional life. In this workshop session, learn and practice strategies to prioritize, vocalize, and emphasize your desired mindset and relationship with your survivorship in order to establish habits that can help you authentically own your experience so you can be empowered by, instead of debilitated by, the realities of AYA cancer survivorship.

The transition into school and/or your first job is usually tricky, but if you’re a Gen Z cancer patient or survivor, the past couple of years have been a truly wild ride. This workshop session will share important information you need to be successful at school and in your early job hunt and help you set goals for your future during a time of instability and the changing landscapes of working and learning.
Jazz Pharmaceuticals is proud to support Stupid Cancer

Jazz Pharmaceuticals is a global biopharmaceutical company whose purpose is to innovate to transform the lives of patients and their families. We are dedicated to developing life-changing medicines for people with serious diseases — often with limited or no therapeutic options.

As a young adult with cancer, you have specific concerns and needs. You may have never been diagnosed with a serious illness before. This may be the time when you want to focus on school, start a family and work towards your career. Life is changing and The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society wants to help you through those changes.

We offer:
- Personalized information and support
- One-on-one nutrition consultations
- Online support and patient podcast
- Booklets and fact sheets, including a young adult journal

COVID-19 and Cancer: Reflecting on the Pandemic and Mapping the Road Ahead

Speakers: Marilyn Allicock, PhD, MPH & Andrea Betts, PhD, MPH

Unsurprisingly, research on AYA cancer patients and survivors has demonstrated that the pandemic has heightened health and psychosocial challenges. In this session, learn about key research findings on the gaps, challenges, and opportunities presented by the pandemic and join in a discussion about how patients/survivors, family members/caregivers, and health care professionals can promote health management and improve the quality of life in the Covid era.

Imposter Syndrome During AYA Cancer Survivorship

Speakers: C Robert Bennett, PhD, CPNP-AC, PPCNP-BC & Peter Drahms, RN, BSN

Have you ever felt like you’re "failing" at being a cancer survivor? This session will address imposter syndrome in the context of AYA cancer, discussing how common insecurities can creep into your subconscious and effect identity development during survivorship. Learn how to reframe these negative thoughts and join in a discussion about how you have navigated them in your treatment and survivorship.

Therapeutic Cannabis and Cancer

Speaker: Alicia Bennett

Cannabis is a plant with therapeutic potential that has been shown to help people with cancer. Join this session to learn more about the scientific evidence on how cannabis can help treat the symptoms of cancer, practical information about what to expect if you decide to try cannabis, and how you find products that may work for you.

Living Single with Cancer

Speakers: Sheena Pruitt, LGSW & Jennifer Garam

Whether you’re trying to date or happily solo, there are unique struggles to single survivorship. Join this open and honest discussion session to share your frustrations, successes, and experiences with other survivors who understand what it’s like to fly solo as an AYA with cancer.

The health and safety of our AYA cancer community is our top priority. If you see another attendee not wearing their mask properly while in our 4th floor CancerCon areas, please kindly remind them to put on their mask. We also encourage you to use our Traffic Light COVID Buttons system to help show your boundaries as you navigate interactions with new and old friends throughout the hotel. (See next page for more details.)

All attendees must submit proof of vaccination (initial dose plus boosters as recommended by the CDC) or provide documentation of a medical or religious exemption prior to arrival or at the registration desk in order to receive their conference badge. Anyone without proper documentation WILL NOT BE ADMITTED.

Masks are required to be worn over the nose and mouth AT ALL TIMES in conference areas when not actively eating or drinking.

- During meal times, takeaway meals will be made available upon request to those who prefer not to eat in the public dining area.

Attendees are expected to monitor their health and seek medical assistance should any symptoms of illness arise during their stay.

Happy Masks and INDICAID OTC rapid tests are available at the registration desk upon request.

Thanks to our in kind sponsors: Happy Masks and Phase Scientific!
TRAFFIC LIGHT COVID BUTTONS

We know that everyone may have a different level of comfort with loosening restrictions. Our “traffic light” button system will allow attendees to easily communicate their boundaries.

*Note: Selecting a Green or Yellow button does NOT except you from the mask policy.

HIGHEST CAUTION
PLEASE DON’T SPEAK TO ME WITHOUT A MASK, KEEP 6+ FEET DISTANCE AT ALL TIMES.

MEDIUM CAUTION
I’M OK WITH ELBOW BUMPS AND CLOSE CONVERSATIONS WITH MASKS ON.

LOWEST CAUTION
I’M OK WITH HIGH FIVES AND QUICK HUGS. I’M WASHING MY HANDS A LOT.

Stanford Adolescent and Young Adult Cancer Program
We help empower everyone affected by AYA cancer by ending isolation and building community.
Stupid Cancer programs empower all adolescents and young adults impacted by cancer. All of our programs are designed to help you Get Busy Living by connecting with other AYAs and gaining access to critical information and resources to improve your quality of life with and after cancer.

Stupid Cancer Stories:
Share your experiences and connect with peers through the power of storytelling at intimate open mic events or by browsing our Story Library.

Meetups:
Social gatherings that bring together the adolescent and young adult community, online or in person, to connect with other patients, survivors, caregivers, and professionals that get it.

Discussion Series:
Topic-based discussion sessions running over 4 weeks allow participants to engage in sustained, meaningful conversation with each other in a structured setting, led by trained professionals.

CancerCon:
Stupid Cancer’s annual conference brings together hundreds of patients, survivors, caregivers, and professionals for a weekend of breakout sessions, keynote speakers, and social activities.

Health Disparities Town Hall:
A 3-year initiative to develop a strategic action plan that addresses the needs of AYAs in historically marginalized groups relating to their experiences during diagnosis, treatment, and/or support.
