

DEVELOPMENT INTERNSHIP

Stupid Cancer®, a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, is the leader in adolescent and young adult (AYA) cancer advocacy and support. Our mission is to empower everyone affected by AYA cancer by ending isolation and building community. Our vision is that everyone in the AYA community is supported, understood, and accepted.

Stupid Cancer is seeking an undergraduate or graduate student Development Intern for the Summer Semester, May - September 2026. This internship will focus on increasing revenue and brand visibility for Stupid Cancer through communications and donor research but will also have the opportunity to work with other departments to develop skills related to marketing and community engagement. This position is appropriate for those interested in careers in nonprofit management, healthcare, communications, marketing, development, fundraising, and/or operations.

Interns who join Stupid Cancer have the opportunity to work closely with a dynamic team who cares deeply about the AYA Community. The ideal candidate is a motivated individual who takes initiative, is detail-oriented, and is passionate about making cancer suck less for adolescents and young adults.

Responsibilities:

- Support digital and in-person fundraising events and cause marketing opportunities
 - Collect and organize RSVPs as necessary
- Clean, segment, and manage mailing lists in spreadsheets for targeted outreach
- Research grant opportunities
- Attend and take notes on development-related webinars
- Create and organize a folder of donor research
- Support e-newsletters and organic posts on all social media channels
- Other administrative tasks as needed

Qualifications:

- Excellent verbal and written communication skills; excellent organization and time management skills.
- Ability to work both independently and within a team.
- Ability to take responsibility in meeting deadlines and make progress within self-managed projects.
- Proficient understanding of Canva, Google Suite, Meta preferred.
- Knowledge of and interest in adolescent and young adult cancer is a plus.
- Candidates based in NYC & available Tuesdays are a plus!

Candidates must be available for remote or hybrid work for a fixed schedule of 10-12 hours per week May - Sept 2026 during regular business hours 9:30 am - 5:30 pm EST, with flexible start/end dates and the option to extend into the Fall. Preference for Tuesday availability to attend full staff meetings. Stupid Cancer will gladly work with your academic institution to meet credit requirements for this internship.

We encourage applicants to seek out internship grant opportunities through their university or other sources. We are able to modify hours or requirements to align with grant requirements for selected candidate(s).
